Farming God's Way-Changing the way Haitians farm

Farming God's Way(FGW) combines Biblical principles, technology and management to help people come out of poverty, using what God has placed in their hands. We train on the importance of placing God first in all things, teach how to do things to the highest standards, and model the technology of no plowing or burning, 100% mulch coverage, and practicing rotations.

The greatest testimony of its success, comes from the lady whom I rent land from. Before beginning our demonstration with our farmers, I showed them the corn plot that my team planted a few months ago. Before I could even explain what we did, my landlord excitedly shares that she has NEVER been able to grow corn on this section of her land. She declared boldly that FGW must work! I can't think of a better way to start a training session!

Each trainings session for 20 people costs about $250 for food, transportation, and staff. We have been trying to complete a training in 3 sessions, but are finding additional trainings are needed. Consider helping us empower Haitians to become sustainable.

Speaking life and destiny into young ladies

I have formed a new group with young ladies. The purpose is to instill in them a confidence and assurance of who they are in Christ. We do lots of declarations, speaking forth truth over them, and I am beginning to see their self-esteem growing. I am also teaching English to another group of young ladies. My rewards are the shy smiles behind their hand-covered mouths.
